The menus and prices are set.

Palm Desert Restaurant Week is ready for its big debut on Oct 27.

“We’re excited,” said Tim Snyder, general manager at Ruth’s Chris Steakhouse and the driving force behind the creation of the event. “We anticipate a great week.”

About 40 restaurants in Palm Desert and Indian Wells have agreed to participate in the city’s first-ever restaurant week, which runs from Oct. 27 to Nov. 2, Snyder said.

Participants range from the posh to the casual. Diners can choose to pay either $28 or $38 per person for a three-course meal.

A portion of the proceeds will benefit College of The Desert’s Hotel Restaurant Management curriculum, Snyder said.

New sponsors for the event are Johnny Walker, Chambord Liquor and Jose Cuervo, Snyder said.

“We have been pleasantly surprised by the response from the businesses and the merchants,” Snyder said.
